The Dream is VOYAH's seven-seat MPV, sold in Europe, the Gulf and Israel. Electric sliding doors open onto a 2+2+3 cabin, with heated, ventilated and massaging seats in the first two rows. It comes as a plug-in hybrid for long trips without a charger, or fully electric. It suits a large family, or a business that carries guests and clients.

01

Effortless entry

Twin electric sliding doors to the second row, and a VIP-style welcome function.

02

Business-class seating

Heated, ventilated and massaging front seats, with 12-way electric adjustment for the driver. The second-row seats add 10-way adjustment, heating, ventilation and massage.

03

Magic-carpet ride

Air suspension with continuous damping control, double-wishbone front and five-link rear suspension.

04

1.4-metre triple screen

A borderless triple-screen display runs 1.4 metres across the dashboard.

05

Room for seven

A 2+2+3 layout with generous cabin height and an extra-large boot.

06

Plug-in hybrid flexibility

The plug-in hybrid covers up to 185 km on electricity and 915 km in total (WLTC), and charges from 20 to 80 percent in about 30 minutes at 80 kW.
